in this research topic our aim is to examine how personal resources related to competencies skills and self perception as well as environmental contextual and relational features of the social contexts of diverse youth directly or indirectly are important to mental health and psychological well being as previous research on young people has mainly focused on youth s weaknesses rather than their strengths our use of positive youth development pyd in working with culturally diverse youth and their well being in this research topic is novel we invite contributions from researchers that were initially presented their papers in a meeting that was held by research partners of the cross national project on positive youth development cn pyd and who represent an international and multidisciplinary panel of experts on pyd the cn pyd was initiated in 2014 at the university of bergen and has an ongoing data collection that involves approximately 10 000 minority and majority youth and emerging adults ages 16 to 29 living in africa asia australia europe new zealand and south america cn pyd uses a strengths based approach to the conceptualization of youth as resources and agentic which is in opposition to the view of the developmental period of adolescence as being a period inherently fraught with problems and risks the goal of the cross national project is to assess personal strengths and contextual resources considering how these resources come together to facilitate youth thriving and to document how young people make positive and valued contributions to themselves and others we also advance research on the complex interplay between personal and contextual resources and their connections with risk behaviors and problems in essence taking a perspective of the whole child both in terms of strengths and problems this book explores the impact of artistic experiments in inspiring people to turn away from current food consumerism and take an active role in preserving sustaining and protecting the environment as artists are expanding their practice into social justice and community concerns erasing traditional forms of expression and integrating others the culture around food and its production has been added to a new vocabulary of experiential art the authors measure the impact of such experiments on local food consumption and production focusing on education and youth both in the surrounding community and culture at large they suggest how these projects can be up scaled to further encourage sustainable solutions for our environment and communities the book explores the reflections and motivations of case study practitioners in urban and rural areas and through interviews engages with artists who are pioneering a new trend to create hubs of activity away from traditional art spaces in cities to follow a non hierarchal practice that is de centralized and communally based this book will be of great interest to academic readers concerned with issues related to environmental aesthetics eco design eco criticism culture heritage memory and identity and those interested in the current debates on the place of aesthetics and culture in sustainability neste livro a escritora cecilia barbazia que atua há mais de duas décadas na área da educação propõe um diálogo transdisciplinar entre poesia e matemática nas salas de aula para isso a autora compartilha de modo sensível possíveis caminhos para a integração da poesia e da matemática utilizando se principalmente das obras de marco lucchesi conhecendo o pensamento de lucchesi e como ele acreditando em uma educação em que estejam presentes os estudos de ética e de responsabilidade social lutamos por uma educação possível de levar às novas gerações uma alternativa de aprendizagem para levar adiante esta proposta entendemos que a poesia da matemática pode ser sem dúvida uma das maneiras de incentivar a busca pela aprendizagem significativa e consequentemente pela paz visto que a matemática é um conhecimento humano nota do editor devido à presença de gráficos com cores recomenda se para a leitura a utilização de aparelhos que leem as cores tablets computadores celulares dentre outros
