this book introduces narrative justice a new theory of aesthetic education the thesis that the cultivation of aesthetic or artistic sensibility can both improve moral character and achieve political justice the author argues that there is a subcategory of narrative representations that provide moral knowledge regardless of their categorisation as fiction or non fiction and which therefore can be employed as a means of moral improvement mcgregor applies this narrative ethics to the criminology of inhumanity including both crimes against humanity and terrorism expanding on the methodology of narrative criminology he demonstrates that narrative representations can be employed to evaluate responsibility for inhumanity to understand the psychology of inhumanity and to undermine inhumanity and are thus a means to the end of opposing injustice he concludes that the cultivation of narrative sensibility is an important tool for both moral improvement and political justice

this volume considers the dynamic relations between the contemporary practices of international criminal tribunals and the ways in which competing histories politics and discourses are re imagined and re constructed in the former yugoslavia and beyond there are two innovative aspects of the book one is the focus on narratives of justice and their production another is in its comparative perspective while legal scholars have tended to analyze transitional justice and the international war tribunals in terms of their success or failure in establishing the facts of war crimes this volume goes beyond mere facts and investigates how the courts create a symbolic space within which competing narratives of crimes perpetrators and victims are produced circulated and contested it analyzes how international criminal law and the courts gather and in turn produce knowledge about societies in war their histories and identities and their relations to the wider world moreover the volume situates narratives of transitional justice in former yugoslavia both within specific national spaces such as serbia and bosnia and beyond the yugoslav in this way it also considers experiences from other countries and other times post world war ii to offer a sounding board for re thinking the meanings of transitional justice and institutions within former yugoslavia included in the volume s coverage is a look at the rwandan tribunals the trials of charles taylor radovan karadzic the srebrenica genocide and other war crimes and criminals in the yugoslav finally it frames all of those narratives and experiences within the global dynamics of legal social and geo political transformations making it an excellent resource for social science researchers human rights activists those interested in the former yugoslavia and international relations and legal scholars
